

W.Z. HICKMAN PRESERVATION AWARDS PROGRAM

The Independence Heritage Commission is a nine-member body appointed by the Independence City Council to oversee the preservation, protection, and enhancement of our city's historic resources. Guided by this mandate, the Commission continually strives to foster and encourage preservation, conservation, restoration, and rehabilitation of buildings within neighborhoods and commercial districts throughout Independence.

In 2001, the Heritage Commission developed an annual awards program to honor the challenges of preserving Independence's rich heritage. These awards are intended to recognize the efforts of individuals, organizations, and projects that display an exemplary commitment to historic preservation in Independence.

In 2002, these awards were distinguished by the name "The W.Z. Hickman Awards for Historic Preservation," in honor of the pioneering efforts of one of Independence's first historic preservationists. In addition to being considered an authority on matters of local history, William Zere Hickman (1845-1921) also organized the "Old Plainsmen's Association" of 1909, who assisted the efforts of the Daughters of the American Revolution in marking the original path of the Santa Fe Trail. In 1916, he also led a citywide movement to see the 1827 Log Courthouse preserved and restored in Independence, for the benefit of future generations and in 1921 authored the book History of Jackson County.

Awards will be presented at the first City Council Meeting in May as part of Independence's annual celebration of Historic Preservation Month. Preservation Month is a national celebration and is co-sponsored with the City of Independence by the National Trust for Historic Preservation.
